Dear Mr. Ciminesi III

1. A few months ago, as part of our correspondence regarding my case, you asked me to send you a list of documents to back my 1040 forms for the years 2009 2010 and 2011. These documents were to be translated according to your specifications.
2. It took me a while, but eventually I gathered and had these documents translated, and have sent them to you on Sun. May 24th.
3. To my great surprise, this morning I received a mail from IRS office in VA, signed by Patrice A. Sadowski (Employee ID 01-10023) a "NOTICE OF DEFICIANCY" letter. This letter states I owe the IRS sums that come up to 11K USD for the period in question. Clearly this letter gives no consideration to the documents I have sent you.
4. I am guessing the reason for this is one of three possibilities:
  - a. Maybe the VA office is not aware of your work with me on the case, and is acting on some clerical mistake. If so, can you contact them and clarify the situation?
  - b. Perhaps for some reason, you did not find the documents I've sent sufficient. If so, please let me know why. I have followed your documents request to the letter, and would like to know why they were dismissed.
  - c. Lastly, perhaps you never received the mail I sent you. If that is the case, I wonder why you never let me know before you have moved my case on for determination (Maybe you tried and didn't reach me?). In any case, if indeed that is what happened, please let me know and I will have the translations reproduced and sent again to your office.
5. In any case, please advise soonest. As you know I am not in the US, and all communications are difficult due to your no email policy. I feel the way things are turning out, that I am being wronged. I doubt you remember, but at the beginning of our communications, I told you I was already audited for 2006 07 08, in which I have already provided all the documents regarding my marriage, my kids, etc. You were surprised and said you will check into things to see why this has happened. I do not know what became of that, but I feel I am getting an unfair treatment.

Please, I really need your input on the above. So please please , contact me at your nearest convenience. My phone number is +972-548040040.

Thank you for your time
